

TABLE DELICACIES

CULINARY HINTS THAT WILL BE FOUND OF VALUE.

Simple Dessert Just the Thing for an Emergency—Proper Way to Make Pimento Salad—For Custard Dumplings.

A Simple Dessert.—Put crackers in a deep dish, pour enough warm milk over to cover them and when soaked, which will be in about ten minutes, sprinkle with sugar. Cover with cream and garnish with preserved peaches, pears or quinces.

Pimento Salad.—Drain the contents of a small can of red peppers, after drying them in a cloth, slice in rings, use fine equal amount of celery, and mix, add one teaspoon of tiny balls made from cream cheese, which should be rolled in fine cracker crumbs. Mix the rolls of two hard-boiled eggs in a paste with the oil drained from the peppers. Rub the salad bowl with garlic and put in the salad, over which pour a good French dressing. Serve as a cold hors d'oeuvre.

Fennel Hash.—Take ripe but firm fennel, cut each person, scoop out the heart, and drop into each to make a raw egg. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, paprika, and just a dash of Worcestershire sauce; next a teaspoonful each of chopped onions, green pepper and bacon or ham. Put in oven and bake until egg is firm. Serve with bread and butter sandwiches or buttered toast. You will find this a most tempting breakfast dish.

Custard Dumplings.—Take six stale buns, grate crust from buns, mix with sugar and cinnamon. Then make a custard, soak buns in custard one hour, then fry in hot lard. When a nice brown roll in the crumbs, sugar and cinnamon. If buns are large cut in two. Sauce—One pint sweet cider, sugar to taste, slice of lemon, add a little thickening, boil and pour over buns. Serve warm.

Corned Cookies.—Take one cupful of sugar, add one cupful of lard, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of salt and a cupful of currants or raisins. Mix flour enough to roll and bake with a little grated nutmeg.

Beefsteak Mayonnaise.—Remove and rub the inside of a small potato, add one teaspoonful each of mustard, salt and powdered sugar, add one tablespoonful of vinegar and rub the mixture through a sieve. Add slowly two-fourths of a cupful of oil and another tablespoonful of vinegar. By the taste one would hardly realize that it was not used in the making.

Indian Pudding.—Wet six tablespoonfuls of Indian meal with enough water to moisten. Add to one cupful of milk and cook until it thickens. Add one cupful of molasses, one quart of milk and salt to taste, stir well, put into buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven three hours.

Indian Rice Pudding.—To two cups of milk add two tablespoonfuls of uncooked rice, one-half of a cupful of molasses and one-fourth of a cupful of salt. Bake in a buttered dish in a slow oven four or five hours, stirring occasionally.

Iceland Moss Cough Candy.—Soak a large handful of the moss overnight, then wash repeatedly. Take from the last water, put in a thick porcelain lined saucepan with cold water to cover well and let it simmer over the fire until of a thick, sticky consistency. To every cup of the thickened water add a pound of sugar and cook, stirring constantly, until a little dropped in cold water makes a creamy ball. Take care it does not scorch. Pour into buttered bread tin, so that it does not spread out too thin, as it should be about half an inch thick. Cut into squares.

Keep Meringue Cold.—I have found in making desserts with a meringue, where it is more convenient to prepare it the day before or where there has been enough made for two days, that the meringue will keep soft and as fresh as when made if placed in an ice box. Other wise it will be tough, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. In case it is a pie the pie may be placed in a hot oven a few minutes—just long enough to heat the crust through a few minutes before serving. This will make the crust as nice and as crisp as when first made, and the meringue will be in good condition.

Cheese Toast with Bacon.—This dish is particularly good when made of Boston brown bread. While the bread is being toasted, melt three level tablespoonfuls of butter; cook in it one level tablespoonful and a half of flour and one-fourth a tea spoonful each of salt and paprika; when frothy stir in three-fourths a cup of rich milk; stir until boiling, then stir in half or three-fourths a cup of grated cheese; continue stirring until the cheese is melted, then pour over the toast. Add a slice of crisp bacon to each slice of toast.

No More Window Rattling.—Clothespins will keep the window from rattling if they be split in two and one piece used as a wedge for each pane. If they are painted white and fitted with a screw eye in each head they may be hung on a hook by the window and be always ready for service.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Best Way to Melt Butter.—Never melt butter on the stove. Heat your cake dish by filling with hot water, wipe dry, then put in butter, it will then melt.

A REMARKABLE MAN.

Active and Bright, Though Almost a Centenarian.

Shepard Kollock, of 44 Wallace St., Red Bank, N. J., is a remarkable man at the age of 98. For 40 years he was a victim of kidney troubles and doctors said he would never be cured. "I was trying everything," says Mr. Kollock, "but my back was lame and weak, and every exertion sent a sharp twinge through me. I had to get up several times each night and the kidney secretions contained a heavy sediment. Recently I began using Dean's Kidney Pills, with fine results. They have given me entire relief."

DEEP CRACKS FROM ECZEMA

Could Lay Slate-Pencil in One—Hands in Dreadful State—Permanent Cure in Cuticura.

"I had eczema on my hands for about seven years and during that time I had used several so-called remedies, together with physicians' and druggists' prescriptions. The disease was so bad on my hands that I could lay a slate-pencil in one of the cracks and a rule placed across the hand would not touch the pencil. I kept using remedy after remedy, and while some gave partial relief, none relieved as much as did the first box of Cuticura Ointment. I made a purchase of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my hands were perfectly cured after two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap were used. W. H. Dean, Newark, Del. Mar. 28, 1907."

Didn't Need It.—Agent—Here's a book that will be welcome in every family. It contains all the rules of etiquette and directions for avoiding slips in grammar. Hiram Grasscutt—Don't need nothing of that kind. Got a daughter hum from boardin' school, a son goin' to high school an' a hired man who's a college feller workin' for his health. But, by jing, partner, it's a relief to talk once in a while to a common, ordinary person. I don't need the book, but I'm darned glad you called.

Worth a Trial.—Cyrus Townsend Brady, the author and clergyman, told at a dinner in Toledo a story about charity. "A millionaire," said Dr. Brady, "lay ailing. He had lived a life of which, as he now looked back on it, he felt none too proud. To the minister at his bedside he muttered weakly: 'If I leave $100,000 or so to the church, will my salvation be assured?' 'The minister answered cautiously: 'I wouldn't like to be positive, but it's well worth trying.'"

Couldn't Take the Case.—"You'll have to send for another doctor," said the one who had been called, after a glance at the patient. "Am I so sick as that?" gasped the sufferer.

"I don't know just how sick you are," replied the man of medicine, "but I know you're the lawyer who cross-examined me when I appeared as an expert witness. My conscience won't let me kill you, and I'll be hanged if I want to cure you. Good-day."

HAPPY OLD AGE

Most Likely to Follow Proper Eating.—As old age advances, we require less food to replace waste, and food that will not overtax the digestive organs, while supplying true nourishment.

Such an ideal food is found in Grape-Nuts, made of whole wheat and barley by long baking and action of diastase in the barley which changes the starch into sugar.

The phosphates also, placed up under the bran-coat of the wheat, are included in Grape-Nuts, but left out of white flour. They are necessary to the building of brain and nerve cells.

"I have used Grape-Nuts," writes an Iowa man, "for 8 years and feel as good and am stronger than I was ten years ago. I am over 74 years old, and attend to my business every day." "Among my customers I meet a man every day who is 92 years old and attributes his good health to the use of Grape-Nuts and Postum which he has used for the last 5 years. He mixes Grape-Nuts with Postum and says they go fine together." "For many years before I began to eat Grape-Nuts, I could not say that I enjoyed life or knew what it was to be able to say 'I am well.' I suffered greatly with constipation, now my habits are as regular as ever in my life. 'Whenever I make extra effort I depend on Grape-Nuts food and it just fills the bill. I can think and write a great deal easier.'"

DO YOU KNOW WHAT WHITE LEAD IS?

Its Chief Use and a Method of Determining Good from Bad Explained.

White Lead is the standard paint material all over the world. It is made by corroding metallic lead into a white powder, through exposing it to the fumes of weak acetic acid and carbonic acid gas; this powder is then ground and mixed with linseed oil, making a thick paste, in which form it is packed and sold for painting purposes. The painter thins it down to the proper consistency for application by the addition of more linseed oil.

The above refers, of course, to pure, genuine White Lead only. Adulterated and fake "White Lead," of which there are many brands on the market, is generally some sort of composition containing only a percentage of white lead; sometimes no White Lead at all; in such stuff, barytes or ground rock, chalk, and similar cheap substances are used to make bulk and imitate the appearance of pure White Lead.

There is, however, a positive test by which the purity or impurity of White Lead may be proved or exposed, before painting with it.

The blow-pipe flame will reduce pure white lead to metallic lead. If a supposed white lead be thus tested and it only partially reduces to lead, leaving a residue, it is proof that something else was there besides white lead.

The National Lead Company guarantee all White Lead sold in packages bearing its "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark to prove absolutely pure under this blow-pipe test, and that you may make the test yourself in your own home, they will send free upon request a blow-pipe and everything else necessary to make the test, together with a valuable booklet on paint. Address, National Lead Company, Woodbridge Building, New York.

The Telephone Girl's Amendment.—Said the business man with a frown against the telephone central:

"One day I was calling a number and said, 'Get me an-four-hundred-and-so.' The girl said, 'Fourteen-hundred-and-so.' So the next time I called the number I thought I'd be forehanded."

"I said, 'Get me fourteen-hundred-and-so.' And the girl asked, 'One-four-oh-oh-and-so.'"

Origin of the Elevator.—The elevator originated in Central Europe. The earliest mention of the elevator is made in a letter of Napoleon I. addressed to his wife, Archduchess Maria Louise. He writes to her that when in Schoenbrunn, then the summer residence of the Austrian emperor, near Vienna, he used the "chaise volante" (flying chair) in that castle which had been constructed for Empress Maria Theresa. It consisted of a small, square room, sumptuously furnished with hangings of red silk and suspended by strong ropes with counter weights, so that it could be pulled up or let down with great ease in a shaft built for the purpose about 1760.

On the Judges.—A celebrated Scottish lawyer had to address the Caledonian equivalent of our supreme court. His "pleading" occupied an entire day. After seven hours of almost continuous oratory he went home, at supper and was asked to conduct family worship. As he was exhausted his devotion was brief.

"I am ashamed of ye," said the old mother. "To think you could talk for seven hours up at the court and dismiss your Maker in seven minutes." "Ay, verily true," was the reply, "but ye maun mind that the Lord isna sae dull in the uptak as thae judge-bodies."

Answered Truthfully.—During the late financial flurry a St. Louis business man was called to serve on a jury. "What is your name?" asked the attorney. "John Smith," the business man replied. "Your color?" the attorney continued. "White," said John Smith. "Your age?" "Forty-eight," quoth Mr. Smith. "Your business?" "Rotten," said John Smith.
